More on the history of the Russell Homestead:

Will Russell ran the farm until 1955, when he retired. In 1958 he died. The farm then belonged to M. Louise (Russell) Winter and Helen Lonnie (Russell) Powell, until 1961, when the latter (HLRP) and her husband (Walter S. Powell) bought M. Louise (Russell) Winter's share of the farm. In 1962, the Powells opened a 9-hole golf course on the farm.
